

PSY 203 Practicum Application

The primary intent of PSY 203 Practicum, a 0.5-credit, S/U course, is to introduce students to faculty research. The course may involve completing readings, helping with data collection and analysis, and/or taking part in meetings or discussions. PSY 203 was created to distinguish introductory research experiences, which are important in their own right, from the more formal and intensive Independent Study courses, PSY 393/394 and PSY 493/494.

Please fill in the fields below and either turn in the hard copy to 242 Soc/Psych or send an electronic copy to psychologyDUS@duke.edu. After the form is processed, the Undergraduate Studies Office will send you a permission number for the appropriate section.

Student Name: _____

Unique ID Number: _____

Year at Duke: Freshman Sophomore Junior Senior

Year of Practicum: 20____

Semester of Practicum: Fall Spring Summer

Student Email: _____

PSY Faculty Supervisor: _____

Faculty Supervisor Email: _____

Faculty Supervisor Signature: _____

Student Signature: _____

Date: _____

For Office Use Only:

Section Number: PSY 203.____ Permission Number: _____