The primary intent of this course is to introduce the student to the research of a faculty member. The course could include readings, data collection and analysis, and/or discussions. This course was invented to distinguish preliminary academic and “hands-on” interactions, which are important in their own right, from the more formally planned and intensive Independent Studies.

The course is half-credit, Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory (S/U) graded course. The proper section number for registration and permission number will be given to the student from the Undergraduate Psychology office. Use the form below.

Once we receive your form, we will send you an email with the correct section number and a permission number for you to register.

Student’s name ________________________________

Has my consent to register for PSY 203 Practicum (0.5 Course credit, Satisfactory/Unsatisfactory).

Student’s email __________________________________
(We use this to send your permission number so you can register. Write it clearly)

________________________________________________
Supervisor’s Signature

________________________________________________
Print Supervisor’s Name Here

PLEASE RETURN THIS FORM TO UNDERGRADUATE PSYCHOLOGY, SOC/PSYCH 242